

Pycnogenol®

30mg French Maritime Pine Bark Extract

What is Pycnogenol?

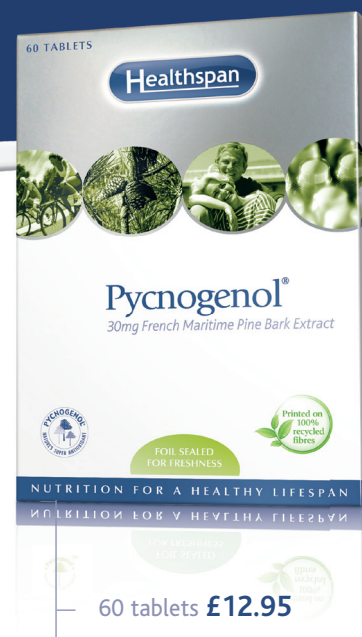

Pycnogenol is a unique bioflavonoid extract derived from the bark of the French maritime pine. On a chemical basis, Pycnogenol is composed of a variety of fruit acids such as catechin, taxifolin and procyanidins. Healthspan's natural tablets contain 30mg of patented Pycnogenol extract.

Pycnogenol has been dubbed the 'super antioxidant' because it contains multiple antioxidants which act together to help mop up excess cell-damaging molecules within the body known as 'free-radicals'. These 'free-radicals' are produced as a natural bi-product when we exercise, and also from exposure to all manner of pollutants. Their effects become more damaging and increasingly noticeable as we age.

Pycnogenol has been the subject of many scientific studies; a comprehensive list of these may be found online at: www.pycnogenol.com
